VOTE RED or YOUR DEAD!

---

I have lost a lot of content for this week because my talk-to-type app was erroneously deleted. I'll try to get things back, but it's going to be a challenge this week.

---

France has taught us: "Vote red, or you're dead." If you want to put an end to what happened in France, you must vote red.

---

France is burning. The Communists, Islamists, and so-called students are burning the place down. If you don't vote red, you're on your way to being dead.

---

What was Macron doing as France was burning on Friday? He was at a Celine Dion concert.

---

I'm going to start exploring the effects of AI on everyday jobs. Let's take a bankruptcy attorney in a personal bankruptcy case. That can all be replaced by AI. Maybe someone will review the work, but the $2,000 to $5,000 they charge, will go away.

---

The election predictions are all over the place, and even the early vote totals are all over the place. In Georgia, the Democrats look like they're up. In Nevada, the Democrats look like they're down. So I'm going to wait before I make a prediction, if I do.

---

The White House press secretary did not make it past week one. I never even learned her name.

---

Donald Trump was very happy that the" No Kings" protests was successful.
He is still the President of the United States.

---

Ilhan Omar is in trouble. A federal judge signed off on a search warrant for her and also for family members. This could be the October surprise I talked about.

---

Omar claims this is Trump's political retaliation. But a judge found probable cause for the search warrant.

---

France has succeeded in globalizing the intifada. Maybe they will find a two-state solution.

---

If immigrants make our country great, why do they not make their own countries great?

---

In much of the country, we now have vote by mail and early voting. Please vote. If something happens on Election Day, your vote will already be in. In 2020, I knew five people with COVID who were planning to vote on Election Day and could not. Please have your vote count. Do it now.

---

The riots are happening all through Europe, and not one mosque was harmed. Stores? Synagogues? Churches? Yes. Mosques? Not one.

---

The Republican Party should be all in on the France-burning commercials. Every time you turn on the TV, you should see France burning and hear, "Don't let it happen here. Vote Republican."

---

Still think these are college students? Muslim businesses in France were not touched.

---

In the event the Democrats win both houses of Congress, I think Trump resigns before December, and Rubio is nominated to be Vice President. Of course, Vance is the President. And then DeSantis becomes Secretary of State. But the Democrats have to win first.

---

People ask me why Trump should resign If the Democrats win Congress. Because the hatred for him is unique to him. It can't be transferred to anyone else. A Vance-Rubio ticket running together for two years would win decisively in 28, and maybe give the Republicans extra breathing room in both houses of Congress.

---

Remember, the people burning down France are running around with Palestinian flags.

---

When the EU boycotts Israeli businesses, who suffers? It's usually the Palestinians who are hired to work. These are Palestinians from the West Bank and East Jerusalem.

---

Why are so many adult children estranged from their parents? Could it be therapy? The fact is, most therapists are liberal. In fact, they're ultra-liberal. Could this be having an effect?

---

The UN World Food Programme is cutting its funding for food to 500,000 Gaza residents. This is the rest of the world not supporting the Palestinians while they all hold flags supporting the Palestinians. As I said, when Israel needs money, the Jews of the world are there to support them. When the Palestinians need money, no one is there.

---

You would think, with all this, the Palestinians would say to the State of Israel: "Help us be productive. We no longer want to kill you." Unfortunately, that is how a normal mind works. That is not how their minds work.

---

How does the funeral home justify raising prices based on the cost of living?

---

The pork section of the grocery store in Paris did not get touched.

---

If the Republicans hold the House and Senate, we'll be able to; "Thank the French." Finally, they will have done something worthwhile.

---

The campaign ad said my future was at stake.
Then it asked for $5 before midnight.

---

They promised to cut government waste.
First, they'll need a task force, a consultant, and new furniture.

MEME of the WEEK:
My spouse said, "You never take me anywhere expensive."
So we went grocery shopping.

BONUS Meme of the Week:
My children say, "You should try something new."
These are the people who ate the same chicken nuggets for nine years
